DETROIT SCHOOL MEDIA CENTER NAMED FOR SEN. MARTHA G. SCOTT

Trix Elementary Honors Senator's Dedication to Education

(LANSING) -- The Local School Community Organization of the John Trix Elementary School will honor State Senator Martha G. Scott (D-Highland Park) on Thursday, February 19, 2004, by dedicating the Media Technology Center in her name. The private ceremony will begin at 4 p.m., prior to an LSCO scheduled meeting.

Sen. Scott has adopted the school, having given special emphasis to parental involvement, said Trix Elementary Principal Wes Ganson. A veteran public servant, Sen. Scott has been passionate about education since the beginning of her political career.

"Sen. Scott's focus on education has been paramount to our success," Mr. Ganson said. "We want to recognize the outstanding achievements of an African American woman who has given her life to serving others."

Sen. Scott is a champion of education, specifically towards children in the inner city. "The single most important thing that government does is educate our children," Sen. Scott said. "As a state senator, it is my charge to see that all of our children receive the best education possible."

While the event is closed to the public, media are invited to attend. For more information, please contact Trix Elementary School at (313) 852-8665. The school is located at 13700 Bringard St.
